Hiring Manager

BrandLock LLC

Wagle Estate, Thane, Maharashtra

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing this letter to express my interest in the company's JavaScript Developer position. I have a strong foundation in core JavaScript, HTML5, and CSS3, along with experience working on complex web applications; I am confident that I can fit right into your development team. My hands-on experience with both JavaScript libraries and tools and a solid understanding of DOM manipulation and performance optimization aligns well with what the job is asking for.

Another experience that I have gained through my projects like TextMind and InfoAssist Bot is designing responsive UIs and optimizing the performance of the website. Well, I am also very good at version control tools like Git, and it has been quite great to work in collaborative environments to deliver high-quality solutions.

It is exciting to have the opportunity to share my development experience in JavaScript with your team and look forward to how I can assist in the success of your projects.

Thanks for considering my application.

Sincerely,

Nishant Baruah
